SIERRA MADRE, CALIF. THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1951

Around the Square

You haven't seen the last of the Chamber of Commerce's "little church" Christmas decorations at the PE Depot yet. The PE Railway Company was so impressed with the novelty and charm of the transformed station that they will be using pictures of it on their Christmas cards this year.

And speaking of belated credit, mention of Harold Spears has been among the "overset type" for several weeks. Mr. Spears, along with Al Morgan, James Hatfield, Bob Crowell, and Frances Danielson deserves thanks for their various roles in decorating the depot.

We were promptly called down last week for referring commuters to the Civic Directory for the bus schedule instead of phoning the NEWS office. Yes, it's true. The timetable in the Directory is now largely obsolete.

But several readers suggested this: Why doesn't the PE Company post up-to-date schedules at strategic spots around town? They point out that the regular supply of printed "skeds" at the station always is quickly exhausted.

YOU - BE - THE - JUDGE - DEPARTMENT: The Kiwanis Club Bulletin this week listed the alleged "Favorite Songs of Kiwanians" under its gossip corner. They all apply to a degree and several hit the proverbial nail on the head. Here they are:

John Conzelman, "The Thing;" Dr. Earl Gassard, "Slow Boat to China;" Robert Green, "Dancing in the Dark;" David Roess, "Bushel and a Peck;" Hugh Warden, "Medicine Man for the Blues;" and Stan Cann, "Good News."

How's this for a "message of the day?"

Look to this day,
For yesterday is but a dream,
And tomorrow is only a vision.

But this day well lived makes Every yesterday a dream of happiness
And every tomorrow a vision of hope.

It's heartening to see work going ahead on schedule with the Baldwin avenue street repair program. Merchants are pleased, too that the job didn't interfere with their Christmas shopping trade.

DATE SET FOR ARC MEETING

Annual meeting of the Sierra Madre Chapter, American Red Cross, will be conducted Monday, Jan. 29. It is announced this week by R. C. Lewis, chairman.

The dinner meeting, to be held at the Woman's Clubhouse will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Fire Consciousness Here Results in Low Fire Bill

"Fire consciousness" is paying off for Sierra Madre. Last year, loss by fire within the city limits was estimated at $6000 by Fire Chief James C. Heasley. This figure was $1600 less than the estimated loss for 1949.

In his annual report to the City Council and to the National Board of Underwriters, Chief Heasley said there were only 15 fire department calls during 1950. There were 36 calls during 1949.

And three months—January, October and November—were completely free of fire, with no calls reported, the chief said.

Mr. Heasley said the few fire calls last year was due to "constant fire prevention work and close contact with residents and the alertness of the department's increased interested members."

A month-by-month breakdown of fires in Sierra Madre last year follows:
January: No calls.
February: 2 calls—1 auto; 1

SIERRA MADRE'S WATER diversion structure and pipeline in the Big Santa Anita Canyon are entering their final stages of construction. Councilman Herman Barter, above, last week expressed the hope that it would be completed between Feb. 1 and 15. Mr. Barter has been interested in the water conservation project since he went on the Council in April of 1948 and is given credit for handling much of the research details and pushing it through to completion. Water from the Big Santa Anita Dam enters the diversion structure above and is channeled into the concrete-encased 30-inch pipeline at the left. The pipe extends down the canyon, across the Elkins property, and narrows to 27 inches wide as it goes west on Grandview to the city's spreading grounds. A swinging gate will close the structure and halt the flow of water, and an earthen "dam" will be erected at the right to completely seal off the flow.

Hansen to Head Red Cross Drive

Carl Hansen has been appointed chairman of the 1951 Fund Campaign of the American Red Cross, Sierra Madre Chapter. The local Ford dealer will lead the ARC's annual drive for funds which begins March 1.

R. C. Lewis, Chapter chairman, announced this week that the Sierra Madre quota for the campaign has been set at $6406. He said $4478, or 69.8 per cent, of the total money raised here will remain in Sierra Madre for local use. The other 30.2 per cent, or $1938, will go to the national ARC headquarters.

Mr. Lewis pointed out that 1951 goal is $1206 larger than last year's goal of $5200.

"But responsibilities of the Red Cross have been broadened considerably since last year," he said. "There are many more men in the services now, and we need more for the home aid to veterans' families and for service hospitals."

The Sierra Madre Chapter recently purchased a mechanical page turner for one of the paralyzed veterans at Long Beach Naval Hospital. Mr. Lewis is stated, singling out one of the projects made possible by citizens in the community.

Council Hears Progress of Water Project

Don Hall McCreery of Quinton Engineers Saturday morning presented Councilmen a resume of progress so far in the city's water diversion project.

Speaking before the adjourned meeting of the Council, Mr. McCreery urged the continuation of having a resident engineer on the job all the time until the project is completed.

The city currently is paying a fee of $42 a day for services of the resident engineer.

Sign Up Starts For First Aid Course

Registrations were opened this week for a 5-week Red Cross First Aid class, to be conducted Wednesday nights at the City Hall Council Chambers.

The class is intended primarily for Civilian Defense block wardens, but other citizens are invited to sign up, according to Harry Lange, first aid chairman of the Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter.

Instructor of the class will be Robert Curry. First session is scheduled for Feb. 7, beginning at 7 P. M.

There is room for 50 pupils

DEPUTY ASSESSOR HERE TUESDAYS

Residents are invited to fill out property statements and claim exemptions at the City Hall Council Chambers on Tuesday afternoons.
From now until April 17, a deputy Los Angeles County assessor will be in Sierra Madre Tuesdays from 1 to 4:30 p. m.

City Checks Title of PE Depot

The City Council this week decided to "play it safe" and instructed City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn to launch a title search of the PE Depot.

But Cornyn said Tuesday that it is his present opinion that "there are no reversion rights" in connection with the station recently turned over to the city by Pacific Electric.

The question of "who really owns the depot" came up at an adjourned meeting Saturday morning when one of the Councilmen pointed out that in 1905 when the City School District sold the depot property to the Los Angeles Interurban Railroad, the laws then provided that if the company ever stopped running rail cars ownership of the land would revert back to the school district.

At any rate, the Council adopted a resolution Saturday accepting the "quitclaim deed" covering the station.

Mayor May Call Special Town Meet

A "town meeting" to acquaint Sierra Madreans with the urgency of civilian defense preparedness was proposed this week by Mayor William A. Kinney.

All citizens would be asked to attend the meeting which probably would be held in the City School auditorium. Date and other details will be decided upon at a meeting of the Defense Council tomorrow night.

Mayor Kinney pointed out this week that many residents of Sierra Madre are not fully aware of how serious the situation really is.

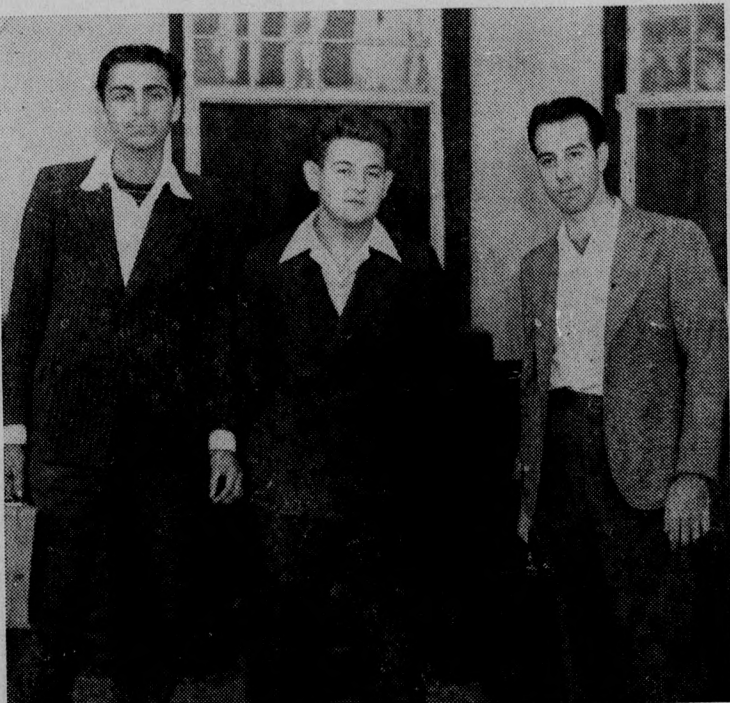

Local Woman's Club Plans 'Federation Day' Program

District chairmen from several cities will come to Sierra Madre next Wednesday, Jan. 24, to take part in the Federation Day observance of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club.

Among the chairmen representing their programs of work at the meeting will be Mrs. Mary Thornburgh of Santa Monica, art; Mrs. Jesse Gwan of Pasadena, the Bible; Mrs. Raymond Kallenbach of Monterey Park, cancer control; Mrs. Harvey Dennis of Whittier, his TEN YEARS AGO this week, the above picture was taken as the first three Sierra Madreans departed for duty with the armed forces. The men, Edward LaLone, Bob Clarke, and Joe Hinojos, are shown just before they stepped aboard a train for Fort MacArthur. Now, a decade later, local men again are leaving and many already have left for military duty.

SCHOOL OFFERS PLANT FOR DISASTER USE

Civil Defense authorities of Sierra Madre last week were assured "complete availability" of facilities of the City School plant.

The assurance was given formally at last week's meeting of the School Board, according to Superintendent Charles A. Skutt. He said the school is prepared to turn over "any and all" facilities for use in case of emergency.

A list of authorized persons having keys to rooms and offices of the school is being prepared this week and will be presented Mayor William A. Kinney, director of Sierra Madre's Civil Defense and Disaster Council.

After School Recreational Program Set

A limited afternoon recreation program at City School went into effect last week.

The program provides recreational facilities and supervision of activities for children of grades 4, 5, and 6 on four afternoons a week, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

Pupils of both the parochial schools as well as the public school are invited to take part in the recreational program, offered from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m.

City School Superintendent Charles A. Skutt said qualified personnel will be in charge of the school ground activities.

'Drizzle' Fails To Ease Drouth

The Southland's drouth continued this week as only one brief rain storm came to soothe Sierra Madre's parched soil.

Monday night's rain amounted to 21 hundredths of an inch and raised the season-to-date total to 4.02 inches.

Last year at this time—which also was considered a "dry year"—Sierra Madre had a seasonal total of 9.67 inches, better than 6 1/2 inches more than the present figure.

Does anyone know of any reliable "rain gods"?

ALA Honors Mrs. Olsen, Ex-President

Members of the Sierra Madre American Legion Auxiliary met at the home of Maybelle Barker, Ramona avenue, Thursday evening for a short business session and a farewell party honoring Mrs. Ora Olsen, Charter member and past president, who is leaving for her new home in Sherman Oaks.

Serving her unit over 26 years as Executive officer and Chairman, Mrs. Olsen was presented with a fire-screen as a token of appreciation, by members of her Unit.

Farewell was also tendered to a recent member, Mrs. Eleanor Bagger Jones, leaving this week for Tucson, Arizona.

The business session showed December to have been a busy month with 800 hours devoted to community service and $43 spent for Christmas gifts for the orphaned children of local veterans. On Thursday, Jan. 25, the Unit will be entertained by Mrs. Grace Koch, 431 Ramona avenue, at 8 o'clock.

PUBLIC UTILITIES AGENCY GRANTS 'HIKE' PETITION

Telephone rates in Sierra Madre will be increased under an order issued yesterday by the State Public Utilities Commission. Not only will extended service rates be increased for both business and residential customers, but all local service will be discontinued.

Mariners Win Muir Offices

Five Mariners in the Senior Girl Scout Group of Sierra Madre were elected to important student offices during elections at John Muir College last Friday.

They are Margot Woodworth, elected president of the Women's Athletic Association; Sue Marmion, secretary of the sophomore class; Margie Hobson, treasurer of the sophomore class; Shirlee Peterson, secretary of Associated Women Students; and Julie Conzelman, representative-at-large.

Importance Stressed of March of Dimes Drive

"This year the March of Dimes is more important than ever before," Mrs. Leo Meyer, Sierra Madre chairman, said this week as the annual campaign was started locally.

"We've just gone through the second worst epidemic year in the entire 13 years of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which depends upon the annual appeal for funds to fight polio here in Sierra Madre and throughout the nation," Mrs. Meyer said.

She pointed out that during 1950, more than 30,000 persons were stricken with the disease, causing a serious drain on funds for their care.

Here in the Los Angeles area alone, Mrs. Meyer said thousands of people fell victims to polio. The county chapter spent more than a million dollars to speed their recovery.

"To insure continuation of that care in 1951, we must give even greater support to the current campaign," she stated. "I know the citizens of Sierra Madre will give wholeheartedly in this fight."

The local March of Dimes drive is being sponsored by the Civic Club. Mrs. Joe Jackson Butler is co-chairman.

Although Sierra Madreans have applied continuously for extended service, they have been refused with the explanation by telephone company officials that equipment was not available.

The state commission granted the company's petition, however, for instituting extended service throughout Sierra Madre, Monrovia, and San Fernando with these general increases.

Single-party extended service rate will increase from the present $3.75 a month to $4.25. Two-party extended service will go from $3.25 to $3.50, and four-party extended service will be established at $3 a month.

Persons on single-party local, now paying $3.25 a month, will have to pay $4.25 for single-party extended. Local two-party had been $2.75 and four-party $2.25. These rates no longer will apply.

Business rates will be $9.25 a month for one party and $7 for two party. The present lo-

Scrap Lumber Sought for City Ball Park

Scrap lumber of all kinds for the Sierra Madre ball park was urgently sought this week by the CFW Raiders.

Larry Sheperd, team manager, announced that several carpenters have volunteered their services to help build a bleacher cover, dugouts for the ball teams, and a small shelter for the public address announcer.

But lumber of the following type is needed for the projects, Mr. Sheperd said.

Boards of all kinds more than 3 feet long, 2-by-4's, and 4-by-4's. Scrap lumber less than 3 feet in length can not be used.

Mr. Sheperd said team members will be glad to pick up lumber donated by citizens. Contact him at 383-B W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Episcopalians Hear Annual Church Report

Annual meeting of the Church of the Ascension was held Sunday afternoon, Jan. 14, at 5 o'clock, and featured elections and appointments for the coming year and a resume of progress last year.

Elected to the church vestry were Otho G. Lord, commissioner of the Los Angeles Supreme Court, and Karl Joehnick, manufacturer. The two men will succeed Woodrow Mecca and David Crane, retiring vestrymen.

Eugene F. Englar was elected senior warden of the church, and Walter Dedrick Jr., junior warden.

Delegates to the Diocesan Convention, Jan. 24, will be O. H. Neely, Otho Lord, and Hall Perry.

The Rev. Harley G. Smith Jr., rector, reported on the "highly successful" past year in the life of the church, which included dedication of the new Parish Day School and renovation of the church sanctuary.

Father Smith also called the attention of parishioners to the Church Mission scheduled for Feb. 4 to 11. Reports of the treasurer and building committee also were submitted.

Five church members were appointed delegates to the Episcopal Convocation. They are Hall Perry, Mrs. John Powell, Albert Barlowe, Wilfred Emmons, and Mrs. Charles E. Fritz.

CHINCHILLA PRINCESS OF 1960 was the title conferred this week on Miss Gigi Pireau, 9-year-old Goldwin star selected to reign over the Western Regional Chinchilla Show in Glendale, Jan. 27 and 28. The show is designed to acquaint the public with the facts on chinchilla raising which has grown recently as a backyard industry, particularly in this area.

Dr. G. Ladd Returns to Church Here

Returning to the Bethany Church pulpit next Sunday, Jan. 21, will be Dr. George Ladd, professor of New Testament at Fuller Seminary. Dr. Ladd will address both the morning and evening services.

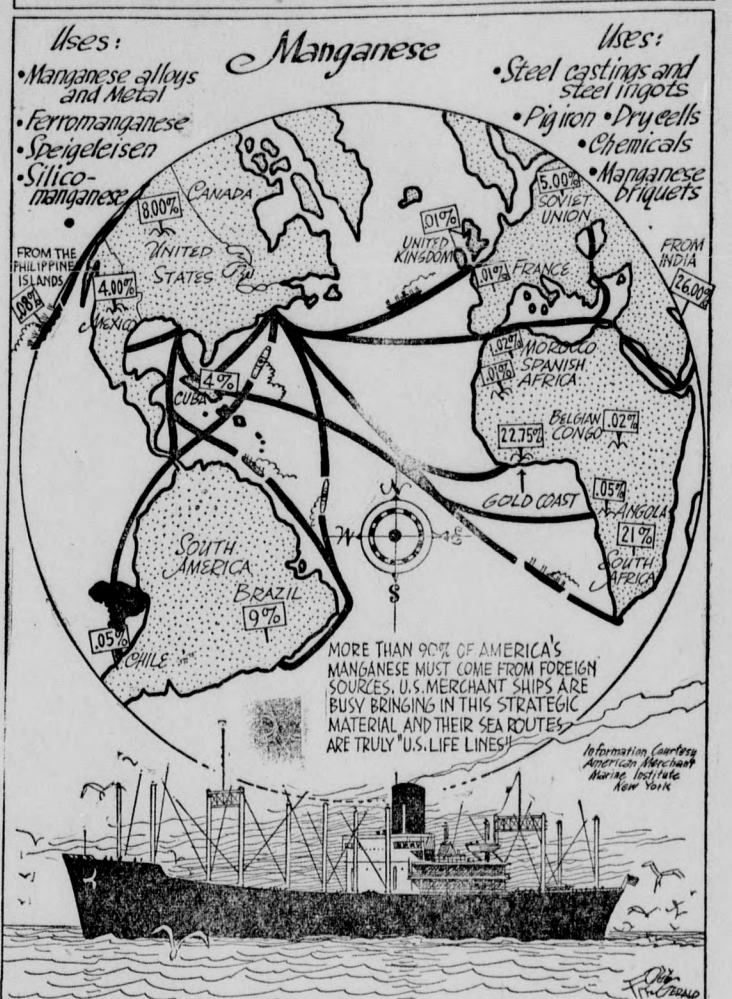

Formerly a Baptist minister in Massachusetts, Dr. Ladd was professor of New Testament at the Gordon School of Divinity in Boston before coming to California.

Last Sunday night was "youth night" at Bethany Church with young people in charge of all phases of the service.

The Youth Choir, directed by Mrs. John Bush, sang two numbers, "Love of God" and "No One Ever Cared for Me Like Jesus." Bud Welsh sang the solo part for the second number. Piano accompanist was Judy Anderson, and Marilyn Haley and Laura Schreuer shared duties at the organ.

The church plans to have youth participation during the evening services at least once a month.

Dr. Valois said a "revolving canasta" game will be one of the features of the evening.

LOCAL GIRL SCOUT DIRECTORS MEET

Job description of Girl Scout Council members was the subject of a talk Jan. 8 by Mrs. Arthur W. Sherman, staff member of the regional Girl Scout committee.

Mrs. Sherman addressed members of the Sierra Madre Girl Scout Board of Directors at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Douglas C. Lance, 509 W. Grandview.

Attending the meeting were Mesdames John E. Conzelman, George Osborn, John Hildner, Edward Davey, A. Draeger, George Bouvier, R. Arnold, William Rogers, Merritt Thompson, and Miss Hattie Valentine.

MENTAL STIMULUS

According to Dr. Wm. L. Halverson, state director of public health, California is second in the nation in alcohol consumption with 4,800,000 drinkers, 290,000 of which are heavy drinkers and 72,000 are chronic alcoholics.

Wm. R. McKay, Judge of Superior Court, says, "Fifty-six per cent of all money set aside by Los Angeles for law enforcement is taken up in acting as nursemaids for drunks." He says, "Law abiding citizens should not be penalized for misdeeds of those who violate the law." He urges making the liquor industry financially responsible for rehabilitation of alcoholics.

It costs California annually $280,000,000 caring for 72,000 alcoholics, a nice start for the liquor industry.

85 Attend Snow Camp

Eighty-five Sierra Madre Boy Scouts and adult leaders took part in the overnight snow trip last weekend at Camp San Antonio, above Camp Baldy.

All local troops were represented at the camp, and local Scouts enjoyed frolicking in 10 to 12 inches of snow.

There was one casualty among the Sierra Madreans. Marcus Woodward, Cubmaster of Pack 1, slipped off his skis and lacerated his left knee cap on a jutting rock Saturday afternoon.

Assistant Cubmaster Ralph Hurwit rushed Mr. Woodward to a hospital in Upland where 10 stitches were required to close the wound.

Scouts agreed that the food prepared by Frank Wright and Neale ("Tiny") Crawford was "out of this world."

Real-Life Westerner Writes Story of 'The Mountain Lion'

(Editor's note: Virtually no one could be better qualified to write on Western outdoor lore than Percy L. Bonebrake, 180 Santa Anita Court. He and Mrs. Bonebrake have "lived in the saddle" most of their lives and have hunted and killed many of the types of mountain lion Mr. Bonebrake so vividly describes. The author was born in 1878 in Los Angeles when the city boasted only 10,300 inhabitants and he spent many years in Texas and Mexico. The pioneer Sierra Madren has written animal stories for several magazines and has written and supplied historical data for the Los Angeles County Museum. At present Mr. Bonebrake is deputy sheriff emeritus and custodian of law and order in the Westerners. This is the first installment of Mr. Bonebrake's story, "The Mountain Lion" which the NEWS knows will prove entertaining and informative for youngsters—ages 10 to 100.)

BY P. L. BONEBRAKE

Afternoon shadows were lengthening over the rugged terrain of the Checker-Board country along the Santa Maria River in Central Arizona when the lithe and sinewy form of a female mountain lion emerged beneath a pile of granite boulders high above the meadow where Pedro Gonzales tended his herd of Angora goats.

After looking carefully up and down the canyon below her, the lioness went boldly down to the stream at the bottom of the canyon where she drank heartily.

That finished, the tawny beast started upstream, senses alert, pausing at every alarming sound, or to sniff passing breezes. Several times she stopped and smelled tracks where a fox, a bob cat and a cow had come down to drink.

Hearing a slight noise ahead of her, the lioness crouched, motionless except for an incessant movement of the end of her tail, and a twitching of her nostrils as she searched for airborne clues as to what was ahead. For a moment or two she remained thus, then arose and circled to a point opposite her first position. There the wind brought to her the unmistakable odor of Stripes, the skunk, on his way to water. Keeping well away from the smaller animal, the lioness continued on her way upstream until she came to many tracks, something like those of the deer she knew so well, that crossed the stream.

She circled cautiously, trying to identify the tracks. All at once she stopped, motionless. In front of her were the marks of man whom she hated and feared. Those tracks she knew only too well even though she did not know that the strange tracks were those of 1200 Angora goats that Pedro Gonzales was herding to a summer range in the mountains.

Those man tracks and the close-by dog tracks caused the lioness to rise along her spine. Her tail moved in slow, menacing arcs, and her eyes gleamed baleful evidence of her combined hatred and fear of those two enemies. She knew that she could outrun the man, and that she could kill the fat, good natured dog with one stroke of her mighty paw, but she could not overcome that inborn warning of danger that stirred her when the man scent and dog scent assailed her nostrils.

The wily cat had no intention of letting Pedro or his faithful shepherd dog see her, but she could not resist an overwhelming curiosity to know just what the man was doing. So she set forth on the herder's trail, following him out of the canyon as he moved his flock over a brushy ridge. Just as she reached the top of the ridge, she caught more plainly the same odor that she had noticed in the goat tracks, and so she turned to proceed cautiously against the wind in the direction whence came the scent.

There was a slight movement in the oak brush, and a patch of white showed for a moment. Instantly the great cat was all attention. With her body close to the ground, she crawled slowly forward until within eight feet of the object, and there she crouched for a few minutes, puzzled. She had never before seen a goat. This particular goat was an old Angora doe which had become lame and had dropped behind the herd when she ran a splinter into her foot. Here at the top of the ridge, the old doe had stopped to rest.

Careless Pedro, anxious to reach camp before sundown, did not notice his loss but hurried the herd on so that the crippled animal was left alone and unprotected, easy prey to the hungry lioness. Claws that ripped and tore, teeth that clamped savagely on the goat's neck, quickly ended the crip-

Mrs. Custer Ends Duties as City's Court Clerk

Mrs. Ruth Custer glanced up from her city receipt book and citation file long enough Saturday morning to sigh:

"I'm sure going to miss the City Hall gang and my work here."

Her resignation as court clerk and secretary to the city engineer became effective Monday, Jan. 15. Saturday was Mrs. Custer's last session of court.

The City Council recently accepted Mrs. Custer's resignation and extended their thanks for her service to the city. Mrs. Custer had explained that she was giving up the city work so as to be able to spend more time with her two children, Susan, 6½, and Sandra, 3½.

But Mrs. Custer, who ends a year and a half in the city's employ, said her services will be available in case of a national emergency. Last week, councilmen hired Eliese Rickman to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Custer's resignation.

Steinberger Has Had Enough of Florida

Former Mayor J. Milton Steinberger has had enough of Florida's cold weather.

In a letter to his sister, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, Milt wrote last week that he hopes to be back in Sierra Madre by the first of February—"as soon as the roads are passable," he added as an afterthought.

Chambers of Commerce throughout California were expected to beam approvingly at this statement (paraphrased) of Mr. Steinberger's:

"It will be fine to get back to good old Sierra Madre after the rains and cold weather of Florida."

Jack Frost Nips Prize Lemon Tree

Jack Frost bit deeply into G. L. Freeman's prize lemon tree Thursday, and found it to his liking.

But Mr. Freeman, 387 E. Sierra Madre boulevard, didn't appreciate Jack's visit. It may have permanently crippled the 8-year-old tree.

The tree frequently yields fruit of gigantic size, one lemon recently picked weighing three-quarters of a pound.

'Caller' Gets $127 From Local Home

Mrs. E. E. Per Lee, 109 S. Baldwin, returned to her home Sunday night to discover she'd had an unexpected "caller."

A burglar had jimmied a window and ransacked her home, getting away with cash and valuables amounting to an estimated $127.

Taken from dresser and desk drawers were the following:

$41 in cash, two ladies' wrist watches, three brooches, four stickpins, and a purse.

Curiously enough, two silver dollars were left behind out of a ransacked box that originally had contained 10 "cart-wheels."

READERS FROM NEAR AND FAR LAUD 'ANNALS' BOOK

Many compliments have been received at the NEWS Office concerning the recent publication of "The Annals of Early Sierra Madre."

Residents have been pleased to read about events in which they themselves or their families took part. But the observations of a stranger living in the east should be of interest to C. W. Jones, president of the Historical Society, and to his book committee.

Excerpts follow from a letter written by Dr. Rockwell M. Kempton of Saginaw, Michigan, to Peter Ward of the NEWS:

"I have just completed thumbing through the copy of 'The Annals of Early Sierra Madre'. I was very much impressed and for several reasons. I'm sure it represents a tremendous amount of work on the part of a large number of people.

"The 'get-up' of the book is really very attractive from beginning to end—even to the paper used on the outside cover. I like the binding with its warm, soft color—set off by the blue title. The early photographs and many cuts done in sepia are very nice.

"I enjoyed noting the photograph of Mr. Jones in his younger days as the first Mayor and again as President of the Historical Society. Many communities miss the mark in failing to assemble such bits of historical data until too late. There is only now and then to be found a person with an historical bent who is capable and willing to undertake so stupendous a task.

"It was also very nice that Sierra Madre's own paper was able to do the print job. This in itself must have been an undertaking—for after all, your main job is publishing a newspaper rather than turning out books.

"Allow me to congratulate the editorial committee on their plan of presenting—short chapters on a variety of subjects, by different writers. The frequent 'breathing points' thus created seem to add interest and the reader finds himself carried along from one interesting story to another."

Group Plans 'World Religion Day' Service

"World Unity through World Faith" is the theme of the second annual World Religion Day, to be observed Sunday, Jan. 21, by members of the Sierra Madre Baha'i Group and others throughout the Los Angeles area.

An observance service is planned for 8:15 p. m. on that day at the Pasadena Athletic Club, according to Mr. John Butah, secretary of the local group.

An address by Mrs. Shirley Warde of Los Angeles and music conducted by Mrs. Norman Hassler and featuring Cantor Samuel Braude will highlight the evening.

"This earth is one country and mankind its citizens" is one of the profound sayings of Baha'u'llah, founder of the Baha'i world faith. Mrs. Butah said his teaching on world unity present the formula for solving today's conflicts.

The public is invited to attend the program, she said.

Arcadia Man Pays $75 For Battery

Harry W. Linton, 30, was fined $75 and a 90-day jail sentence was suspended Saturday morning when he pled guilty to charges of assault and battery.

Linton, who resides at Arcadia Motor Court, originally had denied the accusation that he "beat up" Helen L. Silva of 139 S. Baldwin. He changed his plea to guilty Saturday.

Judge John C. Mead suspended the jail sentence for two years on condition that he pay the $75 fine, that he not be seen "on or near" the premises of the complaining witness, and that he abstain from drinking.

Linton represented himself in court.

SIGN UPS START

From page one in this first class, and 10 already had registered before it was formally announced, Mr. Lange said. It is the goal of the Sierra Madre Civilian Defense Council that all of the 350 block wardens take a first aid course.

Citizens wishing to register for the class should contact Mr. Lange or Mrs. Florence Peterson, executive secretary of the ARC.

CHAMBER ELECTS SEVEN NEW DIRECTORS FOR '51

HERE'S THREE of the 1951 Chamber of Commerce Board members, whose election was announced yesterday by President Al E. Morgan. They are (left to right) Joe Scalzo, Dr. Daniel D'Arcy, and Sam Perlof. Other directors elected, whose pictures were not available at press time yesterday, are Frances Danielson, Peter Ward, Lawrence Garland, and Harry Lange.

Seven new directors were announced yesterday for the 1951 Chamber of Commerce Board. Ballots, which had been distributed to Chamber members and returned by mail, were counted by Chamber officials yesterday afternoon, according to Al E. Morgan, president.

The new and re-elected board members are Sam Perlof, Frances Danielson, Peter Ward, Lawrence Garland, Daniel D'Arcy, Harry Lange, and Joe Scalzo.

These men will join eight other directors with unexpired terms on the board. They are Al E. Morgan, Robert Green, Frank Spencer, Henry Nelson, Oleta R. de Campo, Carl Hansen, Emile Smith, and A. H. Wetherbee.

The new directors will be officially seated at next Monday night's (Jan. 22) meeting of the board. Officers for 1951 will be elected at that time.

Parents who have not had this protection for their preschool children from their physician are welcome to bring them to the schools for the service. Adults also are welcome, although the same smallpox vaccinations may be obtained at the Monrovia Health Center Monday through Friday, from 8 to 9 a. m. and from 3 to 4 p. m.

County technicians will be at City School, 141 W. Highland, next Thursday, Jan. 25, beginning at 9:15 a. m.

Nation Notes Printing Week

This week Jan. 14 to 20, is "Printing Week" throughout the United States and Canada, in recognition of the birthday of the American printer's patron saint, Benjamin Franklin, born Jan. 17, 1706.

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors last week adopted a resolution proclaiming the week-long observance by every city in the county.

Included in the resolution, submitted by Supervisor Leonard Roach, was this section: "... Printing contributes greatly to the economic wealth of the community and to the maintenance of regular employment and to the cultural wealth of the community through production and dissemination of knowledge and ideas.

"It is in the interest of the County of Los Angeles that the growth and prosperity of the printing industry be encouraged ..."

Plans Laid for Boy Scout Year

Plans for the complete Boy Scouting year were drawn up at a meeting of the Sierra Madre District Council held Monday night at the Parkhouse.

Milton Goldberg, president of the council, introduced Don Jacque, who succeeds Bill Davis as Scout executive for Sierra Madre. Mr. Davis is convalescing following surgery.

MAN FINED $25 FOR DRUNKENNESS

Alfred P. Sanchez, 97 N. Lima, spent Tuesday night in city jail after officers arrested him on a drunk charge.

And in court yesterday morning, City Judge John C. Mead sentenced him to pay $25 or serve five days in the county jail. Mr. Sanchez elected to pay the fine.

STATE OK's From Page One

cal business one-party is $4.50, and to obtain one-party a business will have to pay $9.25.

The commission refused to increase pay station rates from 5 cents to 10 cents per call as the company had asked.

The coin-box rate will be a minimum of 22 cents a day with a monthly rate of $1.25.

Southern California Water and Telephone Company had asked for general rate increases totalling $809,000 a year. Since 1947, interim increases amounting to $136,000 have been granted.

Yesterday's order gives an additional $247,000 which will give the firm a return of about 6 per cent. This annual revenue will come also, however, from general increases granted the company in the Banning-Beaumont and the desert area.

The City Council had instructed T. Guy Cornyn to vigorously oppose the increase at hearings before the commission because it contended the company was giving inadequate service to Sierra Madreans, even under existing conditions.

Lt. Patten to Leave Saturday For Overseas

1st Lt. David R. Patten, 83 W. Highland, will leave Saturday for San Francisco where he will be flown to Okinawa for duty with the U. S. Air Force.

Lieutenant Patten, a group navigator, recently received his orders transferring him to Okinawa from the Ellington Air Force Base at Houston, Texas.

The local officer has been "in and out" of service for several years. He was released from active duty after World War II in 1947, recalled in 1948, then called back once again at the end of the year.

"It's a little confusing," he privately admitted to the NEWS this week.

Lieutenant Patten has a wife and two children, Del, age 3, and Susan, 8 months.

1950 SALES RECORD!

To our Sierra Madre friends we express sincere appreciation for the privilege and opportunity of having handled for you this gratifying amount of real estate through our Sierra Madre office in the year 1950. We feel only your confidence in us and our work made this possible.

4 of the sales were outside Sierra Madre, in Arcadia and Long Beach. Since we are happy to cooperate with local brokers and do, a few of the sales were cooperative.

Our exclusive listings get special service through our 2-office set-up, our friendly relations with a number of brokers, and our friendly advertising.

We are happy to list and do sell any priced home old or new. The Sierra Madre sales closed in the past year are located on the following streets:
